

Ukraine 2022, v. 2

As we witness Russia's unprovoked attack on Ukraine, we know that teachers struggle with how to address real time events with students. What is clear: Russia's weaponization of information is part of their communication strategy. We urge educators to practice and model responsible analysis and consumption of media for students.

The Educators' Institute for Human Rights (EIHR) supports teachers' research for their own understanding as well as constructing plans for student learning. This second volume of resources has been updated with new materials addressing responsible media consumption and sharing, reliable sources of information, and avenues for response that have been undertaken in the face of war in the past, such as aid, advocacy, and justice.

EIHR will update this resource on our website as events change. Contact us at info@eihr.org with your resources, and we'll review and add them as we are able.

Media Guidelines

NAMLE/National Association for Media Literacy Education:
Front Page: Resources

Additional Recommendation from NAMLE: Abbie Richards on TikTok addressing disinformation and extremism

News and Information Resources

Axios (interactive world map)

141 countries vote to condemn Russia at UN

Education International:

Educators around the world stand with Ukraine and call for peace

Education Week

How to talk to students about the Russia-Ukraine War

Fresh Air:

Russia's invasion of Ukraine has already changed the world as we know it

rethinking Schools

Teaching about Ukraine

Scholar and author Timothy Snyder's blog and Twitter account

Aid

Forward

Here's how to help Ukraine's Jewish Community

Global Fund for Children

Local groups report on the invasion in Ukraine

Returning Peace Corps Volunteers

Amazon list: Send humanitarian aid items to Ukraine

United Help Ukraine

Front page

United Nations Refugee Agency:

How to Help Refugees

Advocacy

Legacy of War Foundation

Ukraine resources and links

Justice

International Criminal Court

Statement of ICC Chief Prosecutor

The Times of London

Russia's Attack Violates the Most Sacred Principles of International Law

Wes Rist, Dep. Exec. Director, American Society of International Law

Resources for collecting and preserving evidence in Ukraine
eyeWitness to atrocities from the American Bar Association
(for individuals in situation)

While these resources have been reviewed, they should not be interpreted as an endorsement of any organization or publication by or for EIHR. Please review them carefully with your own classroom, curriculum, and community standards in mind.